SOALAN BERDASARKAN TEKS

Challenges are part of life. We face different challenges at different points in life. While some people look at these challenge as opportunities to learn something new, others get disheartened and succumb to them.

We learn many new things as we take on different challenges. These experiences make us a better person. Challenges require us to get out of our comfort zone. These can be difficult to deal with. However, we must deal with them with courage and determination. Here are some ways to deal with the challenges in life.

First you have to stay calm. You will be able to think of a solution and act upon it only if you stay calm. If you stressed about it continually, you will not be able to act wisely. Next, you must stay determined. No matter how hard the situation gets, the key is to stay determined and keep going. You must not give up half way.

Seek help from family and friends if you must. There is no harm in seeking help from family and friends whenever there is a need. However, you must not depend upon them completely. We can overcome many challenges by setting goals.

Goals give us the determination to achieve despite the hurdles. Goals give purpose to live. It is important to set goals in life. We must set both long term and short term goals for our personal as well as professional life and work hard to achieve them. To set goals, we must first understand what we want in life and then make plans to achieve it.

We must always set a time frame for achieving our goals. While challenges take us through new experiences and make us stronger, goals help us stay focused. Both challenges and goals are important in life.
